

From: Chung, Angela
To: Psyk, Christine; Weber, Courtney; Byrne, Jennifer; Wu, Jennifer
CC: Opalski, Dan
Sent: 5/6/2014 1:18:58 PM
Subject: RE: Overview for NWEA of OWW obligations and resources
Attachments: The Work in Office of Water and Watersheds--NWEA ac edits.docx

Hi Christine,

Non-Responsive

Angela Chung
Water Quality Standards Unit Manager
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
1200 Sixth Ave, Suite 900, OWW 131
Seattle, WA 98101
Phone: 206-553-6511

From: Psyk, Christine
Sent: Tuesday, May 06, 2014 9:11 AM
To: Chung, Angela; Weber, Courtney; Byrne, Jennifer; Wu, Jennifer
Cc: Opalski, Dan
Subject: Overview for NWEA of OWW obligations and resources

As you know, we have a number of meetings with NWEA this week—Wednesday is OR CZARA and OR TMDL, and Thursday is Idaho/WA WQS. We have all talked about the limits of what we can offer to settle the litigation given our current budgetary situation and other competing priorities. We thought it could be useful to frame for NWEA the budgetary and workload context in which OWW operates so that she better appreciates the tradeoffs and difficult choices we have to make when we attempt to settle lawsuits. Originally, we thought that I would do such an overview at the WQS standards meeting. However, since the OR TMDL meeting is happening Wednesday, I'm now thinking that I should do it then instead.

In any case, here's the overview I had in mind to give to NWEA. It would not be as a handout, but rather projected onto a screen. Let me know what you think.

Christine Psyk

Associate Director, R10 OWW

206-553-1906

psyk.christine@epa.gov